WHY US?

With more than 5 years of experience, registered and certified, the charcoal briquettes that we produce have international standard quality.

We are managed to source only the best material to produce consistent hookah coconut charcoal to give you the best experience.

With high carbon content, that the heat generated is also maximized with little residual ash.

UNIVERSAL COCO

PRODUCTION

Our production base are located in East Java, Indonesia. We manage to produce 200 MT/Month.

We also cooperate with direct farmers from Java, Sulawesi, and Sumatra to provide raw materials

We assure that we use high-quality raw materials, precise production processes, and maximum drying, and we ensure that there are no cracks on the surface of the briquettes and have lot of benefits.

For example:

- Free from smell and weird taste
- No cracks and sparks
- Thin ash content and light ash color
- Long burn time and constant heat
- Flameless, odorless and smokeless
- Glowing red and no black spot
- Affordable price with no compromising on quality
- Custom order allowed to fit your needs
